Fight Desperately to Retain Lost Height on Thiepval Ridge, but Fail

RESIST COUNTER ATTACKS

Fighting For This One Position Continued Unceasingly For a Week—German Prisoner Tells of One Redoubt Which Holds More Than 2,500 Soldiers—British Take 280 Men

Copyright 1916 by the Associated Press. British front in France, Sunday, Oct. 15, via London, Oct. 16.—In completing the capture of Schwaben redoubt, on the ridge above Thiepval, the British took a prisoner for every yard of front, or 280 for a front of less than 300 yards, not to mention the number of killed by the artillery preparation and in hand-to-hand fighting before the survivors surrendered. The Germans manning the trench and those in the reserve dugouts could hardly have been crowded into one line back on the parapet. This gives an idea of the importance of the Germans attached to that last bit of high ground along their old trench line south of the Ancre on the Thiepval ridge, which their desperate resistance characterized as the most precious two acre plot in all France.

After the British got the first half of the redoubt the Germans made repeated counter-attacks to recover possession of it and for the last week there had been no cessation of the fighting. Now the British look down all along the valley to Grandcourt and it is impossible, apparently, for the Germans to maintain batteries in that area.

Between the new British positions and the river along the old front line fortifications German infantry commanded by British guns from two sides, still stick to their maze of trenches, going and coming like woodchucks through their underground galleries. A German prisoner reports that in this neighborhood there is a record size dugout capable of holding 2,500 men.

"They do hate to leave their happy homes, which they have been two years building," said a British soldier.

The big garrisons which the Germans maintained for the most part, 1917, to their dug outs, rushing out when there is any recess in the shell fire trying to repair the damage done. When they are observed the British guns let loose on them. Finally when nothing but wreckage of trenches remains and only the dug-outs are intact, British infantry charges to gain another section of ground.

In taking the remaining uncaptured portions of St. Eloi redoubt, in the same region, the British took one hundred prisoners with a loss of 35 men. Along the center of the battle line the British have made attacks in the last week, though not in great strength. They succeeded in some places and failed in others against the heavy German resistance. On the whole, it was the quietest week since the beginning of the grand offensive.

Saloonist Gave $500 For License Is Charge Made

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Oct. 16.—Governor Willis today announced that the state liquor license commission would make a thorough investigation of the case of Gladden Searles, Darke county liquor license commissioner arrested at Greenville on an affidavit charging acceptance of an alleged bribe of $100 from Weaver Brothers, Arcanum saloonkeepers. State License Commissioner Hay said he and Commissioner Clendenning had summoned Searles to Columbus ten days ago and investigated the rumors that Searles had solicited campaign funds from Weaver Brothers. Searles declared the charges were a political frame up. License Commissioner Hay said Searles told him that one of the Weaver brothers had offered him $500 to renew their saloon license.

New York Facing Shortage in Coal; Cars Are Scarce

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, Oct. 16.—A shortage of coal is in prospect for this city this winter, according to the dealers, who declare their bins are being depleted, their shipments delayed and that the outlook for immediate or eventual relief is poor. The shortage applies to both hard and soft coal. Failure to receive the usual amount of coal is attributed to a scarcity of labor at the mines and lack of cars for transportation. The enormous foreign trade is also blamed for the shortage which, it is said, exists in other sections of the country as well as here. W. Frank Persons, director of the general work of the Charity Organization Society, asserted in a statement today that a man who earns $22.75 a week now has the same purchasing power as a man who earned $17 a week in 1911.

NO, THESE ARE NOT GROUND-HOG HOLES

Novel Russian trenches.
The queer holes shown in the picture are not rabbit holes or anything of the sort, as might be supposed, but they are the unusual underground trenches employed by the czar's forces in Galicia. The idea has been valuable, as the trenches are quickly built and excellent protection.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS USED IN DEBATE AT INDIANAPOLIS

(Associated Press Telegram) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 16.—Geo. Ade and Meredith Nicholson, Indiana authors, beginning tonight are to hold a political debate on a monograph electric sign, situated in the center of the city. The incandescent debate begins with the display of a 45-word argument favoring Woodrow Wilson's re-election which was written by Nicholson. After running seven nights, Mr. Nicholson's words will be followed for a like period by a statement in support of woman suffrage, written by his wife.

The last week before the election, Ade's argument for Charles E. Hughes' election will be flashed on the sign, in answer to Nicholson.

MILK PRICES ARE ADVANCED; STATE WILL INVESTIGATE

(Associated Press Telegram) Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—Two large distributors raised the price of milk from eight cents to nine cents a quart in this city today. Many others declare they will be obliged to take similar action before the end of the week. Farmers throughout the different sections which supply this city have organized to advance the price to distributors to five and one-half cents. Governor Brumbaugh has declared his intention of appointing a commission to investigate the milk situation in conjunction with similar commissions to be appointed by the governors of Maryland, New Jersey and Delaware.

13 CENTS AT CLARKSBURG.

(Associated Press Telegram) Pittsburgh, Oct. 16.—Milk prices are being advanced in many of the smaller cities of western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and West Virginia, following an increase in price by the farmers who market their milk in Pittsburgh. At New Castle, Pa., milk will be nine cents instead of eight, beginning November 1, and at Alliance, O., the second advance in two months was put in effect today when dealers also demanded nine cents a quart. At Clarksburg, W. Va., the town association of milk distributors has increased the price from ten to twelve cents a quart and other West Virginia communities are facing a like advance.

Former Officer in U. S. Army Gets Military Honors

(Associated Press Telegram) Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 16.—Captain E. G. Shepherd, former United States Army officer, assigned to duty as instructor with the Alabama national guard who resigned and joined the English army when the war broke out, has been wounded five times and now is a captain and brevet major in the distinguished service order of Great Britain. A letter from Colonel R. E. Brook-Lytle, of the North Staffordshire regiment to which Captain Shepherd was assigned when the war broke out, carries this information to Montgomery friends of Captain Shepherd. Captain Shepherd was wounded four times at Ypres and other points on the western front "somewhere in France" and was severely wounded in the Dardanelles. He was blind and paralyzed for months from these wounds but has regained his sight and has been sent to the British battalion in Mesopotamia. The colonel's letter says Captain Shepherd's conduct has been distinguished and highly commendable.

PRESSURE

Against Rumanian Line Continues Unabated in Transylvania

Rumanians Make a Determined Stand at Rucaru Southwest of Kronstadt, Seven Miles From Border—French and British Check Counter Attacks of Germans Along Somme

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Oct. 16.—Teutonic pressure against the Rumanians, along the Transylvanian frontier continues unabated, according to the latest official reports, and at one point at least King Ferdinand's forces have been driven back well within their own territory.

This crucial point of the Rumanians lies southwest of Kronstadt in the southern reaches of the Torzhuriger pass where they are making a determined stand at Rucaru, some seven miles south of the border. The Teutonic thrust here is aimed in the direction of Bucharest, which lies 75 miles across the Rumanian plain from its edge at Capulung ten miles southwest of Rucaru.

On the Somme front in Northern France the entente forces are keeping up their unrelenting drive.

The French last night after having checked German counter-attacks on the positions won a Saturday in their "pocketing" attempts around Chaulnes, south of the Somme, resumed the offensive north of the river. According to Paris today they succeeded in penetrating German positions at Sully-Sailly, pushing up to the edge of the Bapaume road. Renewed fighting brought on by a German counter-attack was in progress when the official report was issued.

The British recently have been advancing in the vicinity of the St. Eloi redoubt and the Schwaben redoubt in the Thiepval region on their northern flank. Last night the Germans made a strong attack on the British positions near the Schwaben fortification. They were beaten back with heavy losses, London declares.

In Macedonia the entente forces have resumed their strong offensive south of Monastir. Sofia declares the Bulgarians frustrated attempts on their lines west of the Monastir-Florina railway line and in the bend of the Cerna. Along the line of the Struma on the eastern end of the Macedonian front the British have pushed their outposts further toward Demir Hissar, patrols having entered the town of Bursuk, eight miles southwest of Demir-Hissar.

American Gets Mention in French Military Orders

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, Oct. 16, 5:25 a. m.—Sergeant Raoul Lufbery of New Haven, Conn., the first American to be mentioned in a communique for bringing down five hostile aeroplanes, is known as the "American who thought himself a Frenchman." Lufbery's parents died when he was very young and he was brought up by a family at Bourges. At the age of thirteen he ran away from home and wandered all over the world, turning his hand to all sorts of trades. At Saigon he met the aviator Naro Pourpe, who trained him as his assistant. The first time that Lufbery discovered that he was an American was when, on the outbreak of the war, he went to enlist with Pourpe. He was rejected on account of his nationality, but, after many appeals, was allowed to go with Pourpe as his mechanic. Pourpe was killed soon afterward and Lufbery swore to avenge him. He importuned his superiors to allow him to train as a pilot and his request was finally granted. Lufbery got his pilot's certificate last year and was transferred to the American flying corps when it was formed. He brought down all five machines required for mention in a communique since July 30. The first three were destroyed within three days.

(Associated Press Telegram) Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 16.—Charles E. Hughes left Lincoln at 7:30 a. m. today for his second day's campaign in Nebraska. The nominee spent Sunday quietly here, seeing no callers and appeared to be refreshed by the rest. Mr. Hughes' program today called for 30 minute stops at Hastings and Fremont, an hour at Grand Island and 15 minutes at Columbus. He is due at Omaha at 5:45 p. m. and will speak there tonight. Tomorrow he will go into South Dakota and Iowa.

(Associated Press Telegram) Sandusky, O., Oct. 16.—The body of Louis Werner, 43, a farmer, was found early this morning near the State Soldiers' Home grounds. A fatal bullet wound was discovered in his body. The police are making an investigation among quarry laborers with whom Werner is said to have had trouble.

FRENCH OBSERVERS HAVE SHELTER OF INGENIOUS TRENCHES

Two views of lookouts watching the effects of their artillery. The trenches and breastworks contrived by the French soldiers along the front of the Somme fighting were among the most effective employed in the war to date. The French have shown unusual ingenuity and resourcefulness in this department of their fighting and have had greater security than the other belligerents in their shelter from shot and shell.

Republicans Without Issue In This Campaign, Says Marshall

Enthusiasm was unrestrained this afternoon when Vice President Thomas R. Marshall and United States Senator Alton Pomerene were introduced to an audience at the High School auditorium which almost filled the big assembly room. At the last moment, the local committee was compelled to arrange for an indoor meeting on account of the weather.

The train from Columbus bearing Vice President Marshall and Senator Pomerene was nearly 30 minutes late and long betwixt they reached the city, those anxious to hear these statesmen discuss the issues of the state and national campaign.

At the Pennsylvania station, a committee composed of Messrs. Ralph Priest, J. R. Fitzgibbon, W. D. Fulton, Frederick Jones and others, greeted the distinguished guests and escorted them to waiting automobiles. Headed by the Buckeye band, the speakers followed by several hundred Democrats, marched to the square and thence to the High School building.

The hall had been hastily made ready for the meeting. The speakers were escorted to the stage where seats were provided for Mr. Marshall, Mr. Pomerene, candidate for secretary of state, W. D. Fulton, who presided as chairman of the meeting, Congressman W. A. Ashbrook, Ralph Priest, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, and J. H. Newton.

Just before going on the stage, Senator Pomerene greeted Mr. Newton warmly and presented him to Vice President Marshall, saying that Mr. Newton was the oldest Democratic editor in captivity. Mr. Marshall replied by saying that he held the distinction of being the only Democratic vice president in captivity.

Mr. Fulton, before introducing Mr. Marshall, apologized for the lack of decorations in the hall, saying that the committee found it necessary at the last moment to change its plans. The chairman paid a nice tribute to the administration, mentioning President Wilson, Vice President Marshall and Senator Pomerene in particular. When he presented Mr. Marshall, the big audience gave the speaker an ovation lasting three to four minutes.

Mr. Marshall spoke in a convincing manner. He interspersed his remarks with a number of witty stories.

Early in his talk, Mr. Marshall made it plain that he was for the present administration first. That his personal ambitions were a secondary consideration. "I am not here today," he said, "to ask you to vote for me. My one request to you is to vote for Woodrow Wilson. I'll take a chance on being elected."

He praised the work of Senator Pomerene in Congress, saying that Pomerene in the Senate saying that he was a courageous statesman and a great aid to the President in the many critical moments which have developed in the four years of the present administration.

"It is difficult for me to discuss any campaign issues for you today. The reason is simple. There are none. It is hard for the Democratic politicians and speakers to keep up with the tactics of the G. O. P. spellbinders because they are working in an aimless haphazard fashion."

He referred to Theodore Roosevelt as having once said the Republican party for non-support and was now making an effort to get back into the old lady's good graces that he might again live with her.

He said there were two kinds of Republicans at present. They are the aristocratic Republican and the just plain Republican. "The aristocratic Republican," he said, "thinks he is made of another kind of clay, about 10 per cent. better than the ordinary herd."

He said the nation was now facing one of its most trying crises. "Every nation as well as every man enters into periods of great crises. At such times it is important that care should be used in selecting those who are to lead the nation through the crisis."

"You have a right to be a Republican and I have a right to be a Democrat. But the time comes when your right and my right melts into one road and we are both called upon to be patriots. That time is now. This is a period when every man should consider the nation's needs from a patriotic standpoint."

"Mr. Hughes is spending his time criticizing the president's foreign policy. He is denouncing Mr. Wilson by saying that we are a spineless people. That the president in his dealings with Germany, resorts to mere words. I can say that he has the greatest supply of words of any man in the country. Mr. Hughes has been on the supreme bench so long that he believes that he can send a one-eyed constable out and frighten the whole world. That one-eyed constable couldn't frighten Wilhelm of Germany. Wilhelm is a man, a real man, and is entitled to consideration as such."

Observers aboard the White Star steamship Bovic, on the steamer's arrival here Saturday, reported they had seen the periscope of a submarine Friday morning when about 200 miles out and that the submarine was apparently in pursuit of the Helligolav, eastward bound. Representatives of the Scandinavian-American line here sent a wireless message to Captain Holst of the Helligolav, advising him of the report and asking for details.

OHIO W. C. T. U. MEETS IN AKRON THIS WEEK

BURGLES LIGHTENED AWAY.

(Associated Press Telegram) Lima, O., October 16.—On opening the Deisel store this morning it was found burglars surprised by a watchman early yesterday had tampered with the safe. Tools were found near by. The safe contained $6000 from Saturday's business.

He said that developments had proved that President Wilson's method in handling the German questions was the right method.

His remarks were greeted with cheers and when the audience again became quiet, Chairman Fulton presented Mr. Pomerene.

Senator Pomerene, Democratic candidate for re-election, denounced the leaders of the Republican party as "calamity howlers." He said that the attempt being made by the Republicans to use the "after the war scare" was not only unpatriotic but unbusinesslike. He referred particularly to Mr. Herrick's speech in which he predicted industrial destruction after the close of the war.

Pomerene declared that while he would not be surprised at any issue Mr. Hughes might attempt to make it was surprising to see a big banker and business man like Mr. Herrick predicting ruin and desolation while the country is in such a prosperous condition.

"What would Mr. Herrick say if while the banks in which he is interested were enjoying the greatest publicity to use the 'after the war' scare, some 'calamity howlers' would go about saying that some dire calamity was about to happen, and thereby cause a run and ruin to the banks. He would seriously object to such a proceeding but he seems to think it was alright for him to do so when the nation's interests are concerned."

Pomerene declared that American business need not have near as much fear from the fancied destruction that the Republicans predict will take place, after the war as they had to fear the election of Candidate Hughes and a Republican Congress and the subsequent repeal or emasulation of the many beneficial laws passed by the Wilson administration.

He said that more industrial unrest and uncertainty would follow the election of Candidate Hughes and a Republican congress than could possibly happen through competition from war-stricken Europe, because he said that any attempt to repeal the constructive laws of the Wilson administration would result in "confusion worse confounded" and is would not be American business as a whole that would benefit but the few selfish interests who have so long dominated the policies of the Republican party.

Destroy Greater Part of Second Rumanian Army in Transylvania

TO RELIEVE FIRST ARMY

Prisoners Tell Captors That the Troops Were Completely Disorganized and Whole Army Narrowly Escaped Destruction—Transylvania Practically Clear of Invading Army

(Associated Press Telegram) Berlin, Oct. 16.—(By Wireless to Sayville).—"The Rumanian second army in its retreat in Transylvania lost approximately two divisions," says the Overseas News Agency. "The Rumanian first army and the larger part of the second army have been virtually annihilated."

"When the successful attack was made on the first army at Hermannstadt by the Austro-German troops the Rumanians planned to send the second army to its assistance. This plan was learned from reports of aviators which were found. The second army advanced some far to the west and was forced to retreat. In haste, its retreat became a panic flight. On Oct. 13, isolated detachments were still being rounded up. Captured officers say the army was completely disorganized. It would have been annihilated if Rumanian reinforcements had not been hurried in through the Torsburger and Predeal passes."

"The Rumanian leaders lost their surety of decision. Brigades and regiments in desperation were moved hastily forward and back on railroads and even in carts. Only pitiful fragments of the army could be rescued from Transylvania."

"Transylvania today is clear of the Rumanians, except for small sections near the border. At the same time the Rumanians' hopes of obtaining assistance from the people of Transylvania have been frustrated. The entire Transylvanian population, and the better Rumanian element feel that they have been delivered from a nightmare, as the Rumanians have been expelled after a short reign of terror."

BOOK PAPER IS MADE OF HEMP BY GOVT. EXPERTS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 16.—Specialists of the department of agriculture are convinced that a satisfactory quality of book paper can be made from hemp hurds, the waste stalk fragments produced in preparing hemp fibre for the market.

A report on the subject issued today, says that commercial tests made in co-operation with a paper manufacturer demonstrated that hurds can be reduced chemically to paper stock by the soda process under practices only slightly different from those employed for the manufacture of pulp from poplar wood. Somewhat more bleaching as well as beating was necessary.

At present 5,000 tons of hurds are produced from hemp grown in Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and California. This is not sufficient, the report states, to justify the erection of a pulp mill or the transportation to existing mills, but it is expected that the available tonnage will be increased.

The view is expressed that the time may come owing to the increasing cost of wood pulp and the increasing acreage of hemp grown in this country, when the use of hurds in the paper making industry will be profitable.

SCORELESS

TIE IN HIGH SCHOOL GAME SATURDAY DEVELOPED SOME FINE FOOTBALL.

Much Kicking on Part of Both Teams Kept Ball Hopping Too and Fro on Field.

It is doubtful if local fans will again have the opportunity this season of witnessing a more strenuous game of football than the one at White Athletic field, Saturday afternoon, when Newark and Delaware high footballers battled through 45 minutes of play to a 0-0 score.

The game was a 50-50 proposition for either team from the first to the last whistle. Newark had numerous opportunities to score; so did Delaware. Time and again the locals would advance the ball to within a few yards of the visitors' goal, only to be held for downs and then forced to punt out of danger.

Delaware when in possession of the ball would take it down the field by steady gains until it would seem that nothing could prevent them from crossing Newark's line, and then the locals would brace and hold for downs. The next minute a Delaware man would be chasing a punt.

Both teams resorted to straight and open football with good results, but their advantages were short lived as they would either lose the ball on a fumble, and intercepted pass or a punt.

With a few minutes more of play in the second quarter, Newark might have won the game by a 3-0 score, as Fullback Orr had dropped back to try for a field goal. But the whistle ended the half. This was the only time during the game that the locals were in a position to try for a goal.

The weather was warm and the field very dusty. But the players showed results of good conditioning, causing very little time to be taken out.

Long was easily the star of the visitors' play, especially when it came to "hitting the line." He made big gains for the visitors on each play except when there was a chance for a touchdown. For the locals, Beatty, Orr and Mayer featured, while the entire team showed improvement of 50 per cent over last week's game, in their work on the line, tackling and breaking up the opposition's plays.

About the only department in which the locals showed a tendency to be lame and in which the Delaware team excelled, was that of intercepting forward passes. The visitors in intercepting a forward pass would leap for the ball and endeavor to catch it. The Newark players contented themselves with deflecting the course of the ball, thereby missing the chance to advance the ball into the enemy's territory.

By catching the ball, instead of striking it to the ground, the receiving player has an opportunity on many occasions to carry the ball a great distance toward his opponent's goal. The locals have shown their ability to catch punts and passes and with a little more practice in catching intercepted passes instead of simply breaking up the play, they could materially improve their chances for victories. The lineup:

Newark. Beatty, I. E. McKenzie, I. E. Hertz, I. E. Abbott, I. E. Zentmeyer, I. E. Young, I. E. Wolf, I. E. Davenport, I. E. Therp, I. E. A. Long, I. E. Mayer, I. E. Van Felt, I. E. Brubaker, I. E. Turner, I. E. Freiner, I. E. Sommer, I. E. O'Hara, I. E. J. Long, I. E. Substitutions: Jowers, Delaware; Haddell, Harger. Time of Quarters: 10 minutes. Referee: Richmond, O. S. U. Umpire: Brown, O. Frank's Hatters Lose First Game to Fitzsimmons

On Sunday afternoon at Wehrle Park the Fitzsimmons football team opened their season with a 21-0 win from the Frank's Hatters. To the 40 people who witnessed the game it was a revelation unlooked for, for it showed the Newark has another classy football team in the making.

It was the first regular game for both teams and the men showed their lack of practice in the game. After about five minutes of play J. Dennison received a forward pass from A. Dennison and crossed the line after a 30 yard run for the first touchdown. Winters missed goal.

The Fitzsimmons team, was handicapped by injury to Baker, and a few minutes later Winters, who it is feared broke his collar bone. The second score was made by H. Conlon on an end run. McCarthy missed the goal. On a line buck, A. Dennison carried the ball over for the third score, near the end of the first half. McManus failed to kick the first touchdown. The end of the first half stood 13-0. The Hatters resorted almost entirely to straight football, while the Fitzsimmons team used the open style of working the forward pass with much success. Near the close of the third quarter, H. Conlon ran 35 yards through a broken field for a touchdown. No goal.

On the forward pass Goodwin to J. Dennison, the Fitzsimmons team made its final score during the last few minutes of play. J. Dennison kicked goal making the score 21-0. The game ended with the ball in possession of the Hatters on their twenty yard line. For the Hatters Cook and Altmer showed to most advantage while for Fitzsimmons Schim was the stumbling block in the Hatters pathway to victory. Lineup:

"Too Much Rupp" Beats Lutherans; Score Was 48 to 0

Springfield, Oct. 16.—Willing before Denison's powerful attack, Wittenberg fell an easy victim to Coach Livingston's team here Saturday afternoon, 46 to 0. It was simply a case of "too much Rupp" for the Lutherans.

Within six minutes after the kickoff, Rupp made a spectacular run of 90 yards for the first touchdown. He scored four during the game and his forward passing was a work of art.

After the first period the Wittenberg attack crumbled before the Denison attack and it simply became a question of how big a score Denison would run. Betchel's playing was the only feature of the Lutherans' work. Betchel was the chief line gainer for his team but the Denison goal was never threatened.

Denison found the Wittenberg line weak and plowed through it during the first three periods, but in the fourth resorted to the forward pass and worked it most successfully, the last two touchdowns being scored in that manner.

Etter, left end of the Wittenberg team, suffered a fracture of the right leg just below the knee on the first play of the game. Rupp fumbled and in the scramble to recover the ball, Etter met with the accident. Lineup:

Doane Fails to Stop D. & D. In Saturday Game

Distinguished Visitors.

The Vice-President of the United States, and the senior senator from Ohio, honored Newark with their presence for a few hours today, and were enthusiastically received.

While the meeting was political in character, each man being a candidate for re-election, it had a further significance as showing the Democratic nature of our institutions, in that men holding such exalted positions in the government, take advantage of such an opportunity to meet face to face, and talk familiarly with their fellow citizens.

Men of every political opinion have a desire to see and hear those who are entrusted with the administration of governmental affairs, under circumstances far removed from any pomp, pageantry or formal ceremony, and while many differed from the speakers of the afternoon as to fiscal and political policies, it is a healthful sign of the stability of such a form of government as ours, that they were given a most respectful hearing by such citizens.

Vice President Marshall and Senator Pomerene have made excellent records in their respective positions. As presiding officer of the Senate the former has been fair and impartial, gaining for himself the confidence and respect even of his political opponents, while Senator Pomerene has rendered valuable service to his state, as well as the nation, upon important committees in general debate, as well as by careful attention to and study of the character of legislation proposed, and its application to the best interests of the entire country. Senator Pomerene has stood shoulder to shoulder with President Wilson.

Sees Boom After War.

Trade expansion following the ending of the European war, the resumption of normal shipping conditions, and an added boom in our foreign commerce is predicted by Gen. George F. Randolph, vice-president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad system. In an interview in the Chicago "Journal," Gen. Randolph's findings are especially authoritative for the reason that he has just returned from a four-months' visit in Europe, studying trade conditions with particular reference to present and future commercial relations between the United States and foreign nations.

State Expenditures.

Economy like charity begins at home. Willis exceeded any previous Governor's expenditures in one year by more than a million and a quarter dollars and in his last year spent $19,895,902.33. The records show that no economy was practiced in the Governor's office. Under the Cox administration in 1914 the legislature appropriated for the Executive department for salaries $22,800; for maintenance $19,751, a total of $42,557. Out of the maintenance fund Cox paid the salaries and other expenses of the Budget Commission with the same number of employees. With the first full appropriation year of Governor Willis and legislature allowed for salaries $24,000; for maintenance $32,475, and for the Budget Commissioner $3,400, a total of $65,875.

When a bill was introduced in the legislature to reduce salaries, including those in the Governor's office, the bill was killed in committee.

Rud Hynicka is the breathing political spirit of George B. Cox and as such he put the quietus on Theodore Burton's presidential aspirations. Now he is the political boss of Willis and Herrick. Nor has he changed any since he was George B. Cox's first lieutenant when he and two other Republican treasurers of Hamilton county were sued and had to pay back money received from interest on public funds.

The Republican State Committee has placed its political assessment on all State employees; 5 per cent on salaries up to $1200; 7-1/2 per cent on salaries from $1200 to $3000 and 10 per cent on salaries of $3000 and more. The State employees are objecting to this assessment because they say they have already been compelled to finance two campaigns for Governor Willis.

Alden Freeman, of East Orange, N. J., an Independent, has sent a $1,000 check to the Democratic National Campaign fund with this statement: "Not since Abraham Lincoln have the plain, unprivileged people, not seeking government protection, found another such friend as Woodrow Wilson."

Since he admits it, it is entirely superfluous to add proof that Harvey Garber controls the Public Utilities Commission. In a recent railroad sale in which two methods were in question Garber insisted on one and told those interested "my men on the Utilities Commission will vote right."

Ford, Burbank, Lubin, Edison—wizards of American business, science, agriculture and invention—detect the real article from the spurious in the political as well as in the fields of their own specialties. They reject Hughes as unworthy of consideration with Woodrow Wilson in the field.

"Boss" Penrose, chief of the Old Guard firm of Penrose, Gallinger and Smoot in the U. S. Senate, sneers at the famous eight-hour address of the late President William McKinley as "buncombe." This indicates the retrograde movement of the Republican party even from the days of McKinley and Mark Hanna to Hughes and Penrose et al.

For one whole day Hughes wanted a tariff on wool. Then some kind soul called his attention to the wool market with prices 50 to 100 per cent above the Payne-Aldrich level.

A Hughes "dominant issue" lasts about the time it takes to deliver one to three speeches—and then automatically fades away.

Candidate Hughes has informed the 40 States with eight-hour laws that they are on the "path to disaster."

Willis' Appointments.

While nothing could change the ultra-partisan way of Governor Willis, his lack of knowledge of the State at large has led him into many errors, especially in patronage matters.

For example, all of his best appointments two years ago went to the attaches of the State Republican Headquarters. No one else in the State had a chance. Most, if not all, of the smaller appointments were doled out without regard to State or County committees upon the advice of those who got the major appointments.

Beginning with Forest Tipton and ending with George Bope every man who was employed in Republican State Headquarters two years ago was placed on the State pay roll. This is the list:

Forest Tipton, private secretary to the Governor, $5,000 per year; Edward M. Fullington, State Budget Commissioner, now State Tax Commissioner, $4,000 per year; James Boyle, State Tax Commissioner, $4,000 per year; Charles B. Galbraith, State Librarian, $3,000 per year; Sherman A. Cuneo, secretary Panama-Pacific Commission, $3,000 per year, now in the State Fire Marshal's office, $1,800 per year; Ben S. Hough, Adjutant-General, $3,500 per year; Charles A. Jones, secretary State Tax Commission, $3,000 per year; Ed. Archer (now deceased) cashier State Treasury, $3,400 per year; S. B. Campbell, chief clerk State Treasurer, $2,400 per year; David Jones, Senate clerk, $1,850 per year; W. E. Barnett, Senate clerk, $1,850 per year; E. W. Hughes, legislative clerk for two years, $1,850 per year; Newton Miller, Panama-Pacific Commissioner, $5,000 per year, now corporation expert State Tax Commissioner, $3,000 per year; E. Howard Gilkey, legislative clerk, $1,850 per year; Clarence Maris, Fire Marshal, $2,000 per year; Beman Thomas, Bank Examiner, $2,500 per year; Harry Putnam, auditor Industrial Commission, $3,500 per year; H. W. Backus, made first on eligible list for Bank Examiner then left the State to avoid being a witness in Treasury graft prosecutions; Charles Dixon, Industrial Commission employee, $3,000 per year; Louis McAllister, serum farm manager, $3,500 per year. All the stenographers in Headquarters were placed in either legislative or State departmental positions. Every person was taken care of. All of them are doing political work and will continue after the campaign on State jobs if Willis be re-elected.

There were 124 Republicans present and voting on the eight-hour law in the House of Representatives, and 70 of them voted with the Wilson administration and 169 Democrats for the measure. Will Candidate Hughes visit the districts of these 70 Republican recalcitrants—including even "Uncle Joe" Cannon—and tell them they are driving the country into "the path of disaster?"

Even Henry C. Frick, the famous head of the Carnegie steel properties and an old-style Pennsylvania protectionist, takes an uppercut at the Hughes "temporary" prosperity talk. Mr. Frick says that our prosperity not only will continue after the war, but is no longer dependent upon it and will be more substantial without it.

Does the United States favor raising the standard of labor by adopting the eight-hour day wherever it is practicable? Woodrow Wilson says "Yes." Candidate Hughes says "No."

File your verdict November 7th.

"Our real eminence lies in the victories of peace rather than the victories of war."—President McKinley's last address. Let us stand by President Wilson who has kept us out of war.

After the Old Guard is through milking the railroads for campaign funds, how long will the eight-hour day continue to be an issue?

Mr. Hughes, you have disparaged the Federal Reserve System. Are you for a central bank or not?

A Progressive Railway View

President Fred D. Underwood of the Erie has too much hard common sense to be carried away by the ratings of a few railway colleagues and the Hughes stamp of politicians. Speaking of the eight-hour law, he says: "There is a general feeling that the eight-hour is coming and no doubt it will come and ought to come."

As to the sufficiency of the eight-hour act passed, he adds: "I do not believe any additional legislation is needed by Congress on this question." And as to the position of the President, Mr. Underwood, who was among those railroad officials summoned to the White House, states: "He is doing what he honestly believes is for the good of the country. No one could associate with Mr. Wilson as the railroad men of the country did during these negotiations and charge Mr. Wilson with playing politics in any way."

Wage Earners United.

James Lord, president of the mining department of the American Federation of Labor, declared that Col. Roosevelt's speech at Wilkes-Barre will be an absolute failure as an effort to alienate workmen's votes from President Wilson.

"This is the supreme effort of the Hughes people to break the solid ranks of labor," said Lord. "They realize that the nation's wage-earners are united politically this year as never before in the history of the country and they are counting on Mr. Roosevelt's personal popularity and plausible professions—fornum hope of preventing a landslide for Wilson in every industrial center of the country."

Hughes and the Lusitania.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Candidate Hughes' statement of what he would have done if President when the Lusitania was sunk really means nothing when it is analyzed. First, he "would have had the State Department, at the very beginning of the Administration, so equipped as to command the respect of the world"—an obvious slap at ex-Secretary Bryan. Of course, Mr. Hughes knows perfectly well that it is the character of the President, not that of the Secretary of State, that decides questions of foreign policy. There is not the slightest reason to suppose that Mr. Bryan's personality had the faintest influence in determining Germany's submarine plans. They were carried out with Teutonic thoroughness and indifference to the wishes of all neutrals—Spain, Norway, Sweden and other countries as well as the United States. Possibly some of these nations have perfectly equipped State Departments, but that doesn't seem to have mattered a particle to Germany.

Having selected the Republican paragon of diplomacy, Mr. Hughes would have given Mexico punch in the ribs and then have been ready for the Lusitania. He would have laid down the law of strict accountability, and when the warning notice about sailing was given he "would have made it known in terms unequivocal and unmistakable that we should not tolerate a continuance of friendly relations through the ordinary diplomatic channels if that action were taken. And the Lusitania, sir, would never have been sunk." This is the cheapest way of winning great diplomatic victories that has ever come to our notice. Just wait a year or two after an event which has taken place, so as to have the advantage of studying it from every angle, and then decide what course you would have taken so as to secure the greatest credit for yourself. To some people this may seem rather petty, but Mr. Hughes and the Colonel do not think so. In his book Mr. Roosevelt loves to dilate upon the mistakes made by Washington, Jefferson and other great Presidents. Mr. Hughes applies this destructive criticism to current politics for his own personal benefit. His Lusitania explanation sheds no new light on his mental processes.

A Progressive On Wilson.

(Wm. A. White in Emporia Gazette.)

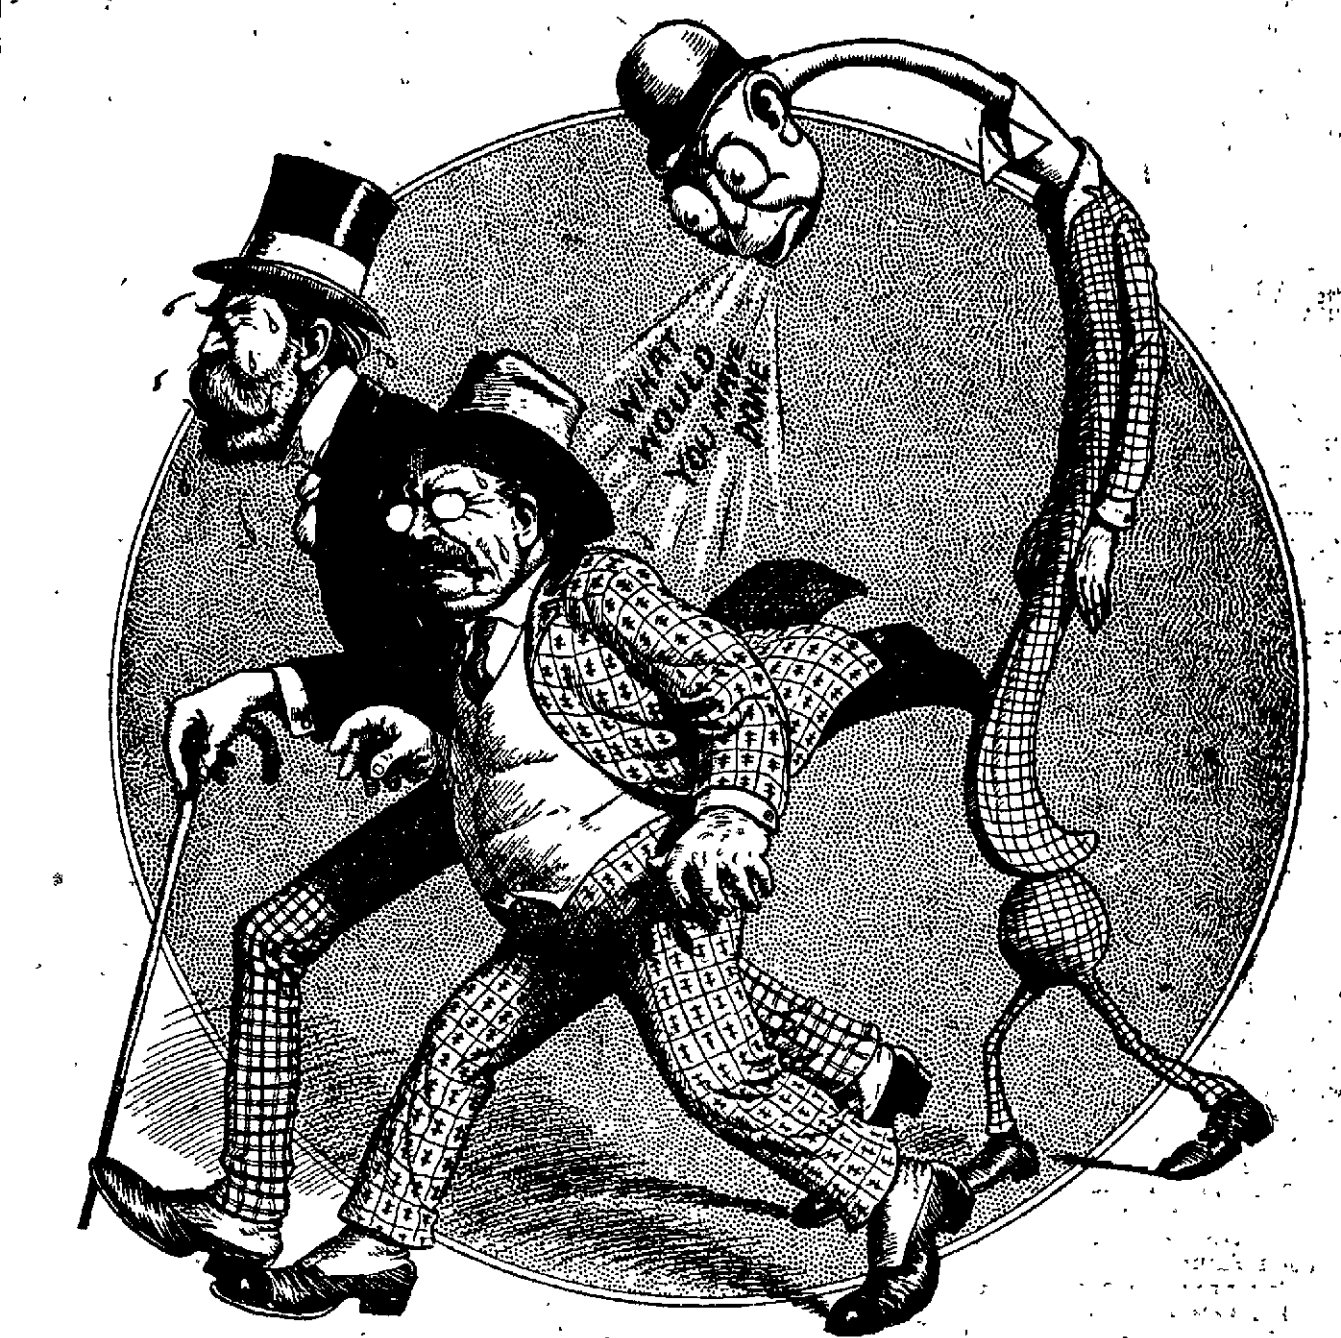

How well he seems to have managed it—this whole sordid business of going to war; how fair he has been; how patient, how dignified, how infinitely gentle and kind! No bluster; no threats; no snicker of anticipation; no licking of nation's chops—just a simple-souled, brave, soft-hearted, hard-headed man. It is sad enough to go into war of any kind at any time, but it is less sad to go knowing that even

Back To Those "Good Old Days Of Mark Hanna"

(From President Woodrow Wilson's speech to the Young Men's Democratic League, Sept. 30, 1916.)

But now you will notice we have returned to the good old days of Mark Hanna in the Republican Party. Some of the very gentlemen who were prominent in that odious regime are now at the head of affairs in the management of the Republican campaign. The retainers of Mark Hanna have returned to authority, and the retainers of Mark Hanna represent the choices, the determinations and, so much as we can conjecture, the policy of the Republican Party. WHAT THEY WANT TO DO IS TO CONTROL AND THEN DETERMINE POLICY IN PRIVATE CONFERENCE.

"THAT HAUNTING QUESTION"

every honorable means has been taken to keep away from war. And this consolidation President Wilson has given us by his wise, forbearing, Christian attitude before the provocation of a foe mad and desperate and foolish. The good God, who knows and watches over all and sees all and directs all, was in our hearts deeper than we knew when as a nation we chose this great, serene soul to lead us.

Cautions Needed.

(Ohio State Journal.)

Now comes the time of year when a few plain cautions should be given to the people about preventing fires, calling attention to such laws as bear upon the subject. Such cautions should not be extended, no longer than the decalogue, perhaps, and should be expressed in clear and definite language. A lecture is not suggested, but a few "don'ts" that cover the ground. A statement of this kind issued from the proper authority might do much good in saving the people from the sad results of fires. The insurance agents might give a few pointers that would be valuable. An exhortation would certainly not be amiss at this time.

Quaker Quips.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Don't talk about a man behind his back. That's the place to kick him. It isn't enough to merely turn over a new leaf. You must put a weight on it. In fishing for a husband it isn't every woman who can tell a nibble from a bite. Don't burn the candle at both ends. You'll find the game isn't worth the candle. Things are seldom what they seem. It generally takes hard work to land a soft job. The bridegroom doesn't cut much of a figure at his own wedding. In fact, he's a mere ringer. We all have our ups and downs, but mighty few of us rise in the world from being called down. The poet's lines are not always cast in pleasant places. Sometimes they go into the waste basket. A hypocrite is a man who remembers the Sabbath day and lets the other six take care of themselves. Muggins: "You can always tell a good girl by her looks." Buggins: "Yes, a girl that looks good is seldom good looking."

Will Attend Fight.
Newark will send a large delegation of boxing fans to Columbus tonight to witness the Bryan Downey-Johnny Griffith, 12-round boxing contest at the Coliseum, under the auspices of the Queensbury club. Downey met Griffith in Columbus several months ago, but the "harp" at that time was a novice, compared to the Downey who will step into the ring tonight. Downey's followers are pinning their hopes on the Columbus boy, finding the "Akon flasher" jaw with one of his haymakers. If he does the better for the rubber city will never hear the count.

Mayona Beaten
By Setting Sun
In Lancaster Race

Mayona, the bay mare owned by Ben B. Jones and J. M. Farmer, of this city, and driven by the former in the 2:18 trot at Lancaster, O., Saturday at the Fairfield county fair finished first, third, third, and third after which she was called and Dorothy Bond, who finished second, second, first, first and third. Mayona was given second place. Mr. Jones protested against the decision of the judges claiming that it was not yet sundown when the race was called and that they should have ordered it finished. Over 30,000 paid admissions filled the grounds Saturday and the attendance was a record breaker.

WOMEN VOLUNTEERS

In stress and trouble the women of a nation are always to be counted upon. In this country few of our women escape the weakening troubles peculiar to their sex.

Thousands of mothers, wives and daughters in Ohio, who have regained health, vigor and cheerful disposition after months of misery and even despair, are the ones who truly appreciate the marvelous restorative power of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Take the following example:

Wooters, Ohio.—"I suffered from a weakness of catarrhal nature and got so bad from it I could not even sleep well. I was unable to get help from any remedy until I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This made a marked difference at once. I used six bottles and the effects were marvelous.
I was then cured, as I have had no return of it since. I am glad to recommend this remedy."—Mrs. NELLIE PARKS, 133 Le Roy St., Wooters, Ohio.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is and has been for nearly 50 years just the medicine. It is not a secret prescription, for its ingredients are printed on the wrapper. It's a temperance medicine, a glyceric extract from roots.

Not only does it build up the entire system and make it strong and vigorous enough to withstand the organic disturbances, but it has a quieting effect upon the feminine organism.

Every woman should be careful that the liver is active and the poisons are not allowed to clog the system—get rid of these poisons by taking a vegetable laxative occasionally—such as Dr.
Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They do not gripe and will not harm the most delicate system.

Consult Dr. Pierce by letter, correspondence private and confidential,

Buffalo, N. Y.

Diplomatic Representatives.
Diplomatic representatives comprise ambassadors, legates or nuncios, envoys, ministers or other persons accredited to sovereigns, and charges d'affaires accredited to ministers of foreign affairs. Only the great powers send ambassadors. The diplomatic representatives of the United States are: Ambassadors extraordinary and plenipotentiary, envoys extraordinary,
ministers plenipotentiary, ministers
resident, charge d'affaires and special commissioners having the rank of envoys extraordinary. Ambassadors, ministers and special commissioners with the rank of envoy extraordinary are appointed by the president with the approval of the senate.

Nuncios and legates are representatives of the pope. According to the rules of the congress of Vienna, nunccios have precedence over all other diplomatic representatives. Since the fall of the temporal power, the United States sends no diplomatic representative to the Vatican, and consequently there is no nuncio or legate at Washington.—Maurice F. Egan, U. S. Minister to Denmark, in Youth's Companion.

Work of the Chemists.
A chemist was employed at a large salary by a well known concern which had formerly employed none. The very first day he made a suggestion which saved the firm enough to pay his salary for a year.

Out in Hawaii they discovered that 10,000 acres of fine pineapple lands were useless because of too much man-ganese in the soil. A chemist showed the growers how to paint the leaves of the pineapple stalk with a certain iron preparation which exactly coun-teracts the ill effects of the manganese.

A Philadelphia chemist told how he was asked to give an expert opinion to a woolen manufacturer about the use of soap.

"I saved that man $20,000 in a year,"
said he, "and I didn't even ask for a fee—it was too simple."

Commercially speaking, chemists are all MacGregors—they sit at the head of the table.—Philadelphia Ledger.

You Might Like to Try It.
Old English cookery was astonishingly lavish. Yorkshire cooks, for instance, seemed to fling about dozens of eggs and pints of cream. A favorite pie to send to one's friends at Christmas was made like this: Take a turkey and bone it; take a goose and bone
it, and so on with a chicken, a pheasant, a partridge, a pigeon and a lark;
then put the lark in the pigeon, the pigeon in the partridge, the partridge in the pheasant, the pheasant in the chicken, the chicken in the goose and the goose in the turkey. The turkey should then be placed in a dish with a couple of hares to fill up the crevices and six pounds of fresh butter, covered and cooked. The recipe said this was "an agreeable pie to eat cold."—
London Tit-Bits.

Concise Information.
A broker was about to write a note
to a man whose initials he had forgotten. Rather than look it up he picked up the phone (he did know the number) and asked the man's stenographer
to give him her employer's initials.

"C. D." was the answer, but the broker wasn't certain.
"C. C., did you say?"
"No," she snapped. "C. D.—understand? D. for dog."
And rang off.

the sentiment she entertains toward her employer.—Cleveland Leader.

Mamma's New Method.

ed a definite plan for raising her boy.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.
Protect Your Eyes.
"Take care of your eyes; they are your breadwinners," is the advice of the national committee for the prevention of blindness
in its latest bulletin. The bulletin says poor eyesight means poor wages, discomfort, diseases,
and is often due to lack of care
or to improper use of the eyes.

Good eyesight, on the other hand, means a fair chance to earn a living, to enjoy life healthfully, and demands good care of the eyes.

It is stated that 50 per cent of all blindness is preventable and that half of this, or 25 per cent,
is preventable through babies' eyes.

Some eyes known as ophthalmia neonatorum. The other half is due to accidents, diseases, defects and negligence. Neglect in getting glasses when needed or having glasses properly fitted is an important cause of eye trouble. The most important symptoms or warnings of eye trouble are headaches, eyestrains, blurred vision, watery eyes, sore eyes or painfulness of the lids. Any one of these symptoms should demand
the services of an oculist.

POMONA GRANGE ENDORSES FARM BUREAU PLANS

Licking County's Farm bureau
was practically assured at a meeting in Vanata Saturday afternoon
when Pomona Grange, representing 26 Granges in the county, endorsed the bureau and appointed Mr. Williams of Hanover, and Mr. Wagdy of Etina as delegates at large to attend
the big Chamber of Commerce luncheon in the Masonic Temple, Thursday, October 26.

More than 500 Grangers were in attendance at the meeting and voted favorably on a resolution endorsing the farm bureau.

Mr. Green of Pataskala introduced a resolution approving of the establishment of a Licking county farm bureau and asking the county commissioners to appropriate at the next June tax levy $1,500 to take care of the expenses of the county agent. The agent will be appointed shortly after the officers for the organization have been elected.

A temporary organization will probably be formed at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon and a little later, the organization will elect its own directors and officers. Each of the 26 Granges will undoubtedly send two representatives to the meeting in addition to the two delegates at large.

Laylin Grange writes the Chamber of Commerce that Edward Caden and F. B. Moore will represent their organization, while Brownsville Grange will send L. F. Hamilton and Ray Redman.

MOVIE "VAMPIRE" IS GIVEN REAL THRILL IN HUSBAND'S RAID

Dorothy Green.
Dorothy Green, one of the best known "vampires" in moving pictures, has been sued for divorce by her husband, Samuel H. Pomerance.
He testified in court that he and private detectives raided his wife's apartment and found her entertaining "Mannie" Chappelle, a wine agent, in her kimono.

WHAT IS AUTO- INTOXICATION?

The best and clearest definition is "Self-Intoxication, or poisoning by compounds produced internally by oneself."

Physicians agree that the vast majority of all illness is due to this cause, brought on by the accumulated waste in the Lower Intestine.

The one sure, natural and safe way to keep the Intestine clean and free from this waste is by an occasional internal Bath with simple warm water given by the "J. B. L. Cascade."

You will be astonished at your feelings
the morning after taking an internal Bath
by means of the "J. B. L. Cascade." You will feel bright, brisk, confident and as though everything is "working right."

Half a million Americans are now using this method with resulting better health and greater vigor. This method will be explained to you by The Hudson Ave. Pharmacy, B. L. Williams, Prop., 222 Hudson Ave., New York City.

Ohio, who will give you a most interesting booklet on the subject by an eminent specialist. Ask or send for this booklet, entitled "Why Man of Today is Only 50 per cent Efficient," while it is on your mind.

GREEKS

IN UNITED STATES INVITED TO JOIN VENIZELLOS PARTY IN AMERICA

New York Colony Organizes at Big Meeting—Alliance to Former Premier Is Pledged.

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, Oct. 16.—More than 300,000 Greeks in the United States have been invited to join the Venizelos party in America which was organized at a meeting of 3,000 natives of Greece here last night. This is the first of a series of meetings to be held in the principal cities of the United States. Organization of the party was greeted with cheers and the singing of the Greek national anthem. A fund of $4,000 was subscribed for the assistance of the former Greek premier from whom the party takes its name. Managers of the movement said $100,000 would be raised in a month.

The present Greek government was condemned and pledges of allegiance to Venizelos were given. Resolutions were adopted resolving that the "Government of King Constantine has abandoned more than $300,000,000 worth of forts and munitions in Macedonia and allowed the fourth regiment to be kidnapped and has thus dishonored Greece and all Hellenism. It has cast a stain on the national honor of Greece and its policy threatens the extinction of the nation."

Greek colonists in America were urged to use their influence to induce parties of Greece which have not already done so to join the national movement, "to expel the enemies who abolished the Greek sovereignty in Macedonia and to defeat and cast out the demagogue now surrounding the king." A committee of 1,000 was formed to carry on the work of the organization.

ONE DAY'S LAKE CATCH LAST WEEK

Col. W. C. Wells is one of the most enthusiastic fishermen who visit Buckeye Lake, and further than that he is usually successful, if conditions are anywhere near favorable. This can easily be judged by a glance at the genial Colonel literally surrounded by a catch he made one day last week at the lake. The smile upon his face indicates his keen appreciation of his successful day's angling.

Col. Wells caught the 50 pounds of fish on the string in a few hours. He used them in entertaining committees from the various lodges of the Knights of Pythias in Columbus. He agreed at the summer picnic to entertain the lodges' committees at the close of the season and as is always the case the Colonel made his word good.

The practical way to meet this need is to carry a checking account here and build up a good balance with which to meet all ordinary needs.

This plan also establishes a credit standing which helps greatly when you need to borrow extra money to meet some unusual need.

Do not these suggestions apply to YOU?

Drink Never Bothered Him

He thought it didn't because he never staggered home stupefied with drink, because he never brought shame home to wife and family.

Then came the day when he toppled over at the office.

"You'll have to stop drinking—absolutely," was the family doctor's verdict. "Alcohol has simply shattered your liver, it's almost hard as a rock. Keep on drink and and" he paused suggestively.

Jones tried to stop. He was surprised to find he couldn't break the habit of years. He just couldn't make good his old boast "I can stop any time." He struggled desperately, then in despair again followed the old doctor's advice—"Go to the Neal Institute."

In three days he left the Institute and returned to his desk, almost before his absence had been noticed. He was free from the clutches of Booz.

He's just one of the four thousand men saved by the Neal Institute in the East Central Division, one of four thousand men made better by the Neal Treatment for the Drink Habit.

Is Your Hair Getting Thin?

If your hair is coming out badly, breaking off or turning gray, some of the vital elements—oxygen, nitrogen, hydrogen, carbon or sulphur are missing. Supply these to the scalp and hair roots by using

VOLA-VITA

Your hair will then, naturally, begin to grow on this place. It will take on a new life and stop falling out. Gradually the youthful color will return and your hair will have a delightful luster and silkiness. Yet, with all its effectiveness, Vola-Vita contains no alcohol, for alcohol falsely stimulates, but eventually burns out and kills the roots.

Vola-Vita is sold and guaranteed by all good druggists and Vola-Vita Mfg. Co., Chicago, at $1.50 a bottle.
